

Setting a Process Goal for Job Search Success

Source: <https://www.corridorcareers.com/job-tips/attitude-job-search-success>

The Job Search Process has many elements:

1. Learning what job you want
2. Researching Opportunities
3. Researching Companies with opportunities
4. Identifying your matched skills and expertise
5. Connecting with companies or networking
6. Applying for a job
7. Interviewing/Negotiating
8. Accepting a job

Step 1: Identify Job Search Outcome Goal.

I would like a job in _____ utilizing my Job industry

_____ by _____
Skills/expertise Time frame

Step 2: Decide what process to focus on:

I want to feel: _____
Feeling objective (joy, motivation, fun, energized)

Activities/Actions I like:

(meeting new people, talking, texting, learning, reading, researching, reconnecting with old friends, learning new skills, refreshing old skills)

Step 3: Set a process goal:

I will

Job search process (activities/actions I like)

So that I can

feeling objective

by

Time frame

Bonus step: Identify triggers.

This can be as simple as 'When I'm on LinkedIn' or after I have my coffee'

Triggers for process